

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

Waters from the Margin

Strategies of Water Management in Dry Regions and Marshy Environments in the Ancient Near East

Venerdì 18 novembre: ore 9.30-19
Odeion, Museo dei Gessi,
Facoltà di Lettere
Sapienza Università di Roma

Organizzazione: L. Mori, M.G. Biga, A. Karbotly
Dipartimento di Scienze dell'Antichità
Info: lucia.mori@uniroma1.it

Programma:

9.30-10.00: Saluti delle autorità e introduzione al convegno:

E. Janulardo (Referente Settore Archeologia MAECI DGSP-VI), Per un'archeologia del moderno

L. Mori (Sapienza Università di Roma), Watering the dry regions of the ancient Near East: an introduction

SESSION 1: STRUGGLING AGAINST THE SEA: THE MARSHES OF LOWER MESOPOTAMIA (CHAIR: M. LIVERANI)

10.00-10.30 - Francis Joannès (Sorbonne, Université de Paris I), La navigation fluviale en Mésopotamie néo-babylonienne

10.30-11.00 Ariel Bagg (Ruprecht-Karls-Universität Heidelberg), The unconquerable country: the marshlands of lower Mesopotamia from the Assyrian sources

11.00-11.15 - Coffee break

11.15-11.45 - Davide Nadali (Roma Sapienza), “Once there was the sea”. The case of Tell Surghul/Nigin in the ancient State of Lagash

11.45-12.15 - Angela Greco (Roma Sapienza) - The taming of wilderness: Marshes as an economical resource in the III millennium Mesopotamia

12.15-12.45 - Lorenzo Verderame (Roma Sapienza), Waterscapes of ancient Sumer: marshes and lagoons in literary and administrative sources

12.45-13.15 - Franco D'Agostino – Licia Romano (Roma Sapienza) - Water for Life, Water for Culture. The Marshlands today

13.15-15.00 - Lunch break

SESSION 2: FLOWING UNDER: THE TECHNOLOGY OF CANALS, TUNNELS AND QANAT IN THE NEAR EAST AND SURROUNDING REGIONS (CHAIR: M. FRANGIPANE)

15.00-15.30 - Frederick Mario Fales (Università di Udine), From Sargon to Sennacherib: wondrous waterworks abroad and at home

15.30-16.00 - Daniele Morandi Bonacossi (Università di Udine), Irrigating the Assyrian countryside. New evidence from the Assyrian irrigation network in the Nineveh hinterland and its impact on the region's agricultural production system

16.00-16.30 – Massimo Vidale (Università di Padova) Irrigation in ancient Iran and the role of the qanat technology

16.30-17.00 - Mauro Cremaschi - Andrea Zerboni (Università di Milano) - Michele Degli Esposti (Università di Pisa ), The qanat/falaj (underground channels) of the Arabian Peninsula: the case study of the Salut plain (Sultanate of Oman )

17.00-17.15 - Coffee break

SESSION 3: WATERING THE DRY LANDS: THE EXPLOITATION OF SPRINGS, MARSHES, LAKES AND WELLS IN ANCIENT SYRIA (CHAIR: A. VANZETTI)

17.15-17.45 - Maria Giovanna Biga (Roma Sapienza), Wells, rivers, lakes in the region around Ebla (Syria XXIV cent. BC.)

17.45-18.15 - Francesca Baffi (Università del Salento), Tell Tuqan: sulle rive di un lago

18.15-18.45 - Marco Bonechi (Istituto di Studi sul Mediterraneo Antico, CNR) - Luca Peyronel (IULM, Milano), Syrian Steppe and Amorite Hydraulics, Between Mari and Ebla: An Integrated Archaeological and Philological Perspective.